1. Szabó, P., Filotás, P., Sikné Lányi, C., Zsebi, S., & Cserjési, R. (2024). Virtual reality implementation of the Corsi test and pilot study on acceptance. Software Impacts, 21, 100693. <https://doi.org/10.1016/j.simpa.2024.100693>

Contribution:

This study presents the development of a virtual reality implementation of the Corsi Block-Tapping Test demonstrating the feasibility and user acceptance of immersive cognitive assessment tools widely used in psychology. I led the design and development of the VR application and contributed to the study design and analysis.

2. Szabó, P., Ara, J., Halmosi, B., Sikné Lányi, C., & Guzsvinecz, T. (2023). Technologies designed to assist individuals with cognitive impairments. Sustainability, 15, 13490. <https://doi.org/10.3390/su151813490>

Contribution:

This publication reviews and analyzes digital assistive technologies supporting individuals with cognitive impairments, highlighting emerging opportunities for virtual reality and interactive systems in rehabilitation. I was the main contributor into the conceptual framework and analysis of technology-driven rehabilitation approaches.

3. Szabó, P., Pete, K., & Sikné Lányi, C. (2025). A New Path to Recovery: Virtual Reality-Driven Treadmill Exercises. In Technology for Inclusion and Participation for All: Recent Achievements and Future Directions (pp. 158–165). Springer. https://doi.org/10.1007/978-3-032-01628-7_20

Contribution:

This work introduces a VR-supported treadmill training environment designed to enhance rehabilitation engagement and motor recovery through immersive interaction. I was responsible for the development, the design of the VR system, and the testing of its effectiveness.
