

Recommendation Letter for Dr. Patrícia Szabó

To Whom It May Concern:

I am pleased to provide this strong recommendation for Dr. Patrícia Szabó. I had the privilege of collaborating with Dr. Szabó through the COST Action CA19104 – Advancing Social Inclusion through Technology and EmPowerment (a-STEP), where I served as the vice-chair and she served as Science Communication Coordinator.

In her role as Science Communication Coordinator, Dr. Szabó was highly effective in disseminating our interdisciplinary work to both scientific and public audiences, consistently ensuring that our research findings reached their intended targets with clarity and impact. Her approach combined excellent organizational abilities with genuine creativity, resulting in communication strategies that significantly enhanced the visibility and reach of our Action's activities.

What particularly impressed me about Dr. Szabó was her ability to synthesize complex technical concepts and present them in ways that resonated with diverse audiences. She consistently demonstrated strong analytical thinking alongside her communication expertise, showing a deep understanding of both the scientific content and the most effective ways to share it. Her work contributed meaningfully to the overall success and impact of our collaborative research efforts.

Beyond her technical competencies, Dr. Szabó proved to be an exceptionally reliable and engaged colleague. She approached every task with professionalism and dedication, consistently meeting deadlines and exceeding expectations. Her collaborative spirit and positive attitude made her an invaluable team member who enhanced the working environment for everyone involved.

Dr. Szabó's combination of research acumen, communication excellence, and collaborative professionalism makes her exceptionally well-suited for postdoctoral research positions. Her international experience through our COST Action collaboration, coupled with her proven ability to contribute meaningfully to complex research initiatives, positions her as a strong candidate who will undoubtedly make valuable contributions to any research team.

I recommend Dr. Patrícia Szabó without reservation and am confident she will excel in her future research endeavors.

Sincerely,
